SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT FROM TODAY'S MESSAGE

*What is your typical reaction when you hear someone talking about the “end of all things being near” or that we are “living in the last days?” Why do you think you feel this way?

*Peter says that in light of the temporary nature of this life that we should “be alert and of sober mind.” In what ways do you think you could be more “alert” or intentional about the way you live?

*Peter mentions a few important ways for us make good use of the days we have. Let's consider each of these:

*Pray well: How would you describe your current prayer life and how could you be more intentional about your prayer life?

*Love well: Part of loving well is the ability to respond appropriately to the sin and shortcomings of others. Is there anyone in your life whom you feel challenged about how to respond to their sin or shortcomings? What might “love” require of you for the sake of that person or that relationship?

-A second part of loving well is the call to offer hospitality without grumbling. What is your attitude when you think about “offering hospitality?”

-What are some specific ways you might be able “offer hospitality” to others?

*Serve well: Peter describes serving as a faithful response to God's grace in our lives. How might being mindful of God's goodness in your life help you when it comes to serving others?

*We've talked about “praying well.” Please take a moment to close your time with prayer.
